

Coincidental... Really?

You think this is all just a coincidence? Coincidences are pre-determined by God, they only "appear" coincidental to the eye. However, these occurrences that are happening without apparent reason, are exact! These simultaneous occurrences are generated behind a veil of chance or luck to make you think that its random... Only its not! These anagrams or words and phrases created using only letters from the word in question are arranged in a particular way as to form words... However using all of the "identical" letters contained within the word only once (an anagram), the exact opposite word can be formed. A contrary word or phrase, or "con" which means: an opposing argument... Argument means: to contend in words; a dispute... Not all arguments are vocal, mine are WRITTEN. These "identical" cons" if you will are only called COINCIDENTAL...

• Identical - being the same; equal

Con also means: DEFRAUD or TRICK... God is using chance disguised as "a scene" to fool while remaining hid

Ok, so I just told you God is using coincidences in secret to con or trick you... Scenes in your life are paired by occurrences "similar in nature" without "apparent reason..."

• Coincidences.

~~Scenic in Code~~

- scenic - the place of an occurrence
- in - in ones presence
- code - a secret system of communication using symbols with special meanings

which means:

The place "in your presence" has a "secret meaning!"

God is the secret... He is boasting His power clandestinely by stringing together a series of unlikely events to baffle your mind. God is tricking man because mans agenda is evil.

• Coincidentally

~~Diety call in con!~~

- Diety - God!
- call - to make a demand
- in - into the midst of
- con - swindle, TRICK

God demands "in the midst" of "A Trick!"
These next set of words are purely coincidental...
